John Henry Seeling IV

BY ED LEPOMA

As the year comes to an end. Hancock County's Port and Harbor Commission continues to upgrade its rail system at the Port Bienville Industrial Park and make taxiway and road improvements at Stennis International Airport.

The Commission met in recessed session Monday, and passed several resolutions to improve the infrastructure system at the industrial park and at the airport Executive Director Hal-Walters said BP Amoco has tentatively agreed to pay up to $1.4 million of the $1.6 million needed to upgrade five-plus miles of main track in order to accommodate heavier railcars Amoco and Wellman plan to bring into the industrial park. .

Commissioners voted to spend $11,500 to have Garver Engineers of Jackson, which is already on site, design the upgrade, and voted to put the project out to public bid when specifications are available.

Railroad Manager Greg Deakle later told the Echo the five-plus miles of main track running from the Manufab Plant to the park's connection with the CSX tracks in Ansley will be upgraded from 85pound rail to 115-pound rail.

Commissioners also authorized the secretary to advertise for upgrade of the pressure wash system used to clean rail cars and heavy trucks at the port's Car Wash facility, and to advertise for an annual bid for cross ties used by the railroad.

Walters also gained approval PORT-PAGE 5A

Shootout sends Sea Wolves to third straight loss

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The Mississippi Sea Wolves dropped a close decision 3-2 to a struggling Augusta Lynx team in the Mississippi Coast Coliseum Saturday, November 27. A shootout was needed to decide the narrow finish. It was the third consecutive loss for the Sea Wolves in as many days.

Fists started to fly early in this contest with the Sea Wolves' Andrew Proskurnicki Proskurnicki and Aube. and Lynx defenseman Dan Kopec hooking it up with 15:15 left to play in the opening period. Kopec was given 5:00 in the box for fighting and that penalty sent him over 1000 penalty minutes for his career.

Stewart Bodtker put the Lynx on the board with 12:22 left in the first period when he scored on a putback after an awesome series of saves by Sea Wolf goalie Chuck Thuss.

Whitney offers interest-free teacher loans

Whitney National Bank has partnered with The National Board of Professional Teaching Standards (NBPTS) in their Certification Program to promote the enhancement of teacher skills.

In doing so, the Whitney has made available approximately $60,000 in individual loans to teachers so that they can go through the intense course over a one-year period.

"We are very pleased that Whitney Bank is actively supporting quality education in our community", said Mrs. Senita Walker with The Gulf Coast Education Initiative.

"By offering this unique program to teachers, the Whitney is stepping up to the plate to help make our education system the best it can be." Whitney is the only lending institution participating in the program.

The bank worked with the Gulf Coast Education Initiative to provide the interest-free loans in the amount of $2,000 each to participating teachers from the Mississippi Gulf Coast

The dollars will be paid directly to the NBPTS and will be used to cover the cost of tuition and fees for the program. Each candidate will receive full reimbursement by the state upon successful completion of the program.

According to W. Reed Allison, Whitney's vice president managing the program, "Loan applications will be processed on a first-come, first-serve basis with a maximum of $60,000 in interest-free loans available.

Based on the feedback we have received, there is a great deal of interest in these loans, and Whitney is proud to support such a worthwhile pro- invested in a taxable account

Time to think about year-end tax strategies

As another year draws to a close, you may be asking yourself a couple of questions. First, Where does the time go? And second. "Can I still do something about my taxes?"

Although you can't do anything about the rapid passage of time, you can still employ some tax strategies that can help you on April 15. Here are a few suggestions:

• Time your mutual fund purchases. If you plan on buying mutual fund shares this year, you may want to wait until after your fund declares its capital gains distributions, which usually occurs in early December. Otherwise, you'll be liable for a whole year's worth of capital gains, even if you only held the shares for a brief time.

On the other hand, if you plan to sell shares, you'll want to do so before your fund reports its distributions.

• Maximize your retirement plan contributions. If you haven't yet contributed the maximum allowable amount to your 401 (k) or other employersponsored qualified retirement plan, you might want to do so.

These contributions are made with pre-tax dollars, which will lower your annual taxable income. Plus, your earnings will grow on a taxdeferred basis, which means they will accumulate faster than they would if they were

In addition to fully funding next year. your 401(k), you may also be able to put in more to your "traditional" IRA.

Depending on your individual situation, these contributions may be tax deductible. (You have until April 17, 2000, to make IRA contributions for

• Make charitable gifts. By making a charitable gift to a qualified organization by yearend, you can get an income tax deduction for the year. If you transfer an appreciated asset that you have held over one year, such as a stock or a piece of land, you also will avoid capital gains taxes in the future.

• Look for tax-favored investment opportunities. If you think some tax-favored vehicles for you.

WHITNEY TEAM

For example, you may be interested in tax-free investments, such as municipal bonds. (Earnings from Roth IRAs also grow tax-free, provided you meet certain conditions.)

Or you can consider tax-efficient investments, such as mutual funds that do little trading, thereby generating relatively small amounts of capital

By taking these steps, you may be able to brighten your tax picture considerably. As with all decisions regarding your taxes, consult with your tax adviser before taking
